TO TAKE STUMP

McAdoo and Coolidge Presidential Favorites—Stanley and Bethu-

Race

By Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Mar. 19.—No less than 22 Kentucky women, 13 Republicans and nine Democrats, none of whom is a candidate for office, will take the stump in support of their political views during the presidential campaign this year.

Some of the widely known women are Mrs. Christine Bradley South, of Frankfort, daughter of late Senator Bradley, and a member of the Republican national committee; Miss Laura Clay, of Lexington, a pioneer in the women's suffrage movement whose tenets are strongly Democratic; Mrs. Alvin T. Hirt, widow of "Tobe" Hirt, for years Republican national committeeman from Kentucky, and Mrs. J. Campbell Cantrell, widow of the Democratic nominee for governor last year who died after being nominated.

The Republican state convention not only instructed the delegation to the National Convention to vote for President Coolidge for president, but also instructed that the vote for vice-president be cast for United States Senator Richard P. Ernst, of Covington.

Up to the present time, only one candidate has been mentioned among the Democrats, William G. McAdoo. The Democratic state convention, which will meet in May will decide upon Kentucky's choice at the National Convention.

Kentucky this year will elect a congressman from each of the 11 districts and a United States senator. Congressional incumbents, nine Democrats and two Republicans, are understood to be candidates for re-nomination. United States Senator A. O. Stanley, Democrat, is believed to be certain to seek the Democratic nomination to succeed himself, while Judge J. B. Bethurum, of Lexington, has announced he will seek the Republican nomination.

Senator Stanley faces opposition for the Democratic nomination as John J. Howe, commonwealth's attorney for the fifteenth judicial district, has announced his candidacy, subject to the action of the state-wide primary August 2.

Hospital physicians had not made a thorough examination to determine the extent of his injuries at the last reports.

Without warning of danger, the scaffold broke from its fastening and fell to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet. Mr. McKiddy's back was severely hurt when he struck the ground. His son, Jack McKiddy, who was also working on the scaffold was not injured in the accident.

Company Formed to Place Trash
Cans on Middlesboro Streets

The Sanitary Trash Can company is the latest business civic enterprise to be launched in Middlesboro. It will have for its purpose the ownership and operation of fifty street waste cans, the emoluments from the partnership being the revenue derived from advertising.

Realizing that her Merchants' Association was not, as an entity, able to finance the project of keeping the sidewalks clean and also that no provisions are made by the city for this purpose, a few public spirited business men formed and capitalized the enterprise.

An ordinance is now being drafted whereby the company will be licensed the same as other businesses so that the legality of the project may not be questioned. The city has volunteered to perform the duties of emptying the waste cans and of enforcing the laws regarding disposal of waste.

Order for twenty waste cans, constructed along the line of the new sample now being painted at the Money sign shop, has already been placed by the organization. An outstanding feature of the business and one which effectively indicates its public-spiritedness is that all the work incidental to the manufacture and decorating of the cans will be done by Middlesboro firms. It was found that the work could be done as well and more economically here in Middlesboro and is a move that

PLANNING BUY IN MIDDLESBORO WEEK

Merchants Discuss Style Show, Booking and Other Features Intended

That plans for "Buy in Middlesboro" week are assuring definite form was reflected at the meeting of the Merchants' Association committee at the office of Sterchi Bros. and Tennent yesterday afternoon.

The style show which will include also a practical exhibition and demonstration of furniture and home furnishings took up the major part of the discussion. The show will be held at the Mauring Theatre during the afternoon of the campaign. A series of scenes to show the furniture and clothing will be presented on the stage. Beginning with the kitchen and breakfast room scenes, which will probably be shown at the same time, the characters will present afternoon and evening scenes, the latter two perhaps being in the form of parties.

During the show and particularly the intermission between the scenes a speaker will extol the merits of Middlesboro products, laying particular stress on those being exhibited on the stage. Local stores will unite in contributing furniture for the exhibition.

The style show will, in all probability, take place during the evening scene of the show. In this scene, men and women, forming a party, will show to advantage becoming styles of evening apparel. Throughout the series of scenes local women will effectively demonstrate articles of furniture and home furnishings.

Merchants say that they have assurance of the support of Mrs. D. G. Hinks, president of the Middlesboro Woman's club in inaugurating and carrying to a successful culmination the campaign in which it is hoped, hundreds of people will become interested in Middlesboro clothing and other merchandise.

Committee chairmen present at the meeting were: S. M. Reams, H. E. Verran, W. E. Frazer, W. V. Tennent, G. H. Talbott and D. Z. Gibson.

BIBLE BILL PASSES

pulsory—Other School
Reforms Likely

Passage of the bill making compulsory daily Bible reading in the public schools in the state legislature yesterday is reported by Supt. J. W. Bradner who has been in Frankfort during the past few days in the interest of legislation affecting the public schools of the state.

The superintendent reports that the bill passed the house with only eleven members voting against it, and the senate with only one opposing vote. Chances for passage of other school legislation is regarded as favorable.

Company Formed to Place Trash

could well be followed by other Middlesboro people on the eve of launching the "Buy in Middlesboro" week campaign.

The advertising rate will be so low that there will be no difficulty in selling the space. The ads will be painted in such an attractive manner that the cans will be an ornament to the sidewalks in the business section of town. The outside surface of the receptacles will be washed at regular intervals so that they may always be clean and attractive.

The enterprise will pay some revenue, of course, though its promoters are not expecting to make money out of it, the initial cost being more than the advertising will amount to in several years. The identity of the members of the partnership is a secret, partly because they do not wish to make a public display of their altruism but mostly for the reason that they admit the scheme bears striking resemblance to the Andy Gump combination hair-brush and mirror company. The "president" of the organization is tackling the proposition with true Gump optimism, however, and his organization deserves the cooperation of the public and city.

One of the cans will be placed in front of the postoffice this week. Others will be placed as rapidly as they can be made. Plans are to place about fifty cans on the business blocks of Cumberland avenue, between the nineteenth and twentieth streets.

FORMAL OPENING
FOR REMODELED
STORE PLANNED

Open for Inspection By Friends Rest of Week

W. J. CALLISON HEAD

Sons in Charge of Various Departments—Have Branch Stores in Lynch and Poor
Fork

Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday have been set by Callison's as the formal opening time for their store since it has been remodeled. The interior has been renovated and a beautiful new mezzanine for furniture display has been added. Friends of the store have been invited to come during these three days and inspect to their hearts content the furniture and jewelry displays.

The store will be decorated in spring flowers, jugs and morning glories. Music by an orchestra on the mezzanine floor will be furnished each afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. Pyrex measuring cups will be given as souvenirs to all visitors during the three days.

Sales will not be pushed during these three days and the force will give over to showing their patrons over the store. A great amount of new stock has arrived and will be on display.

The windows are particularly attractive for the opening. One represents a modern kitchen, with a white Sellers' mastercraft cabinet, a white porcelain, five burner Florence range, a kitchen table and stool and a blue linoleum rug. The other window is fitted up with an Italian walnut dining room suite of especially beautiful design.

Callison's furniture store was established in Middlesboro in 1890 in a small twenty-foot store room on Cumberland avenue which is now occupied by Chamber Grocery Store. It is now in its thirty-fifth year, the second oldest store in this city.

W. J. Callison, president and general manager of the store, came to Middlesboro in 1890 with his good wife and has been in continuous residence here ever since. He was first engaged in jewelry business but went soon into the furniture and undertaking business, remaining in it from that time.

In a few years, as the business expanded, the store moved into the building now occupied by the Coca-Cola Bottling Works and the Candy Kitchen. In 1906 they built the large store which now houses the Moore-Rogan Wholesale Dry Goods Co. and in 1910 they built the present building where they have been ever since.

The store has a branch undertaking establishment at Lynch and a branch furniture and undertaking store at Poor Fork. It does as extensive business in many outlying districts.

W. J. Callison is head of the entire business and his three sons have charge of the various departments. J. R. Callison is in charge of the office and of branch stores, M. S. Callison is manager of the furniture department and George Callison has charge of the undertaking business. The Callisons for years have been active factor in the various phases of civic life and few other families have been more closely connected with the development of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Callison celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on January 1 of this year, surrounded by all of their children and grandchildren.

Russia's Capital Again Changes
Name, This Time to Leningrad

Associated Press.

LENINGRAD, Russia, Mar. 18.—Soviet government authorities who, in tribute to the late Molotovsk premier, Nicolai Lenin, changed the name of Peter the Great's capital from Petrograd to Leningrad, are taking steps to see that the decree is obeyed.

Within a short time, it is announced, fines will be imposed for letters presented at the postoffices addressed to "Petrograd." All newspaper dispatches from this city already carry the Leningrad date.

A number of other cities have sought to honor Lenin's memory in a similar fashion. Simbirsk, the capital of the province where Lenin was born, has become Leninsk. The administration of Ukaterevsk, named in honor of Catherine the Great, has petitioned to be named Leningrad. In fact, so many similar petitions have come to the central authorities in Moscow that they have announced that none will be granted without considerable deliberation.

Jake's Daughter

Olive Belle Hammon, pretty 16-year-old school girl daughter of the late Jake Hammon, slipped down to Washington to tell the senators the things that were being said about her daddy weren't so at all. But there's little likelihood she'll get to take the stand, right now, she's just visiting at her uncle's home.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—The atmosphere at the Chicago Republican convention in 1920 was charged with stories of oil deals, the oil committee was told today, by Thiffin Gilmore, Ohio deputy secretary of state, who was at Chicago as supporter of General Wood for the presidential nomination. Gilmore said it was common talk that there has been a deal between oil operators that he understood an offer was made to Wood and refused, but that he knew the names of none of the men concerned and had no first hand information whatever to support the story. James G. Darden, friend of President Harding, and man of ear-flung interests was another witness. He told the committee he was interested in one hundred and sixty acres of Teapot Dome land but had been rejected by Federal marines. He never had a lease on the land, however, but hoped to develop his claim and test the Sinclair lease on the same property. He found, however, that Interior Secretary Fall, had determined to clear Darden's company, the Mutual, from the land by force.

Gilmore in the course of his examination was asked if he gathered the impression that Jake Hammon, Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, had anything to do with the story that oil operators proposed to throw their support to Wood if he was permitted to name the secretary of interior. Gilmore thought he had been told Hammon was mixed up in it.

CERTAIN PUNISHMENT ALONE RESTRAINS

Walter J. Kirkwood has offered himself to be electrocuted in the place of a condemned man whom he has never seen. "I want to shock the world," he says, "into a realization of what capital punishment really means." Mr. Kirkwood says he is too ill to win, that alive he is of no use, but by his dying a younger man might be reclaimed and capital punishment discouraged.

His offer can not, of course, be accepted, but it may serve its purpose. It calls attention once again to a barbarous practice with little support in the social conscience of the American people. The fact is that criminals are to be deterred, not by the severity of the punishment but by its certainty. And the maintenance of capital punishment makes for uncertainty. Jurors are loath to convict when death is to follow and criminals, instead of being sure of punishment, are reasonably sure of getting off. The punishment should follow rather than fit the crime. When punishment for crime is certain the severity of the punishment becomes of less importance.

The conscience of the American people wavers as to capital punishment. It is inertia that maintains it. It is not so much sentimentalism that opposes it as common sense. Any punishment more certain would deter and restrain more effectively than the present remote prospect of being done to death.—Louisville Herald.

WEDNESDAY

Knowing God's Love Through Obedience

Read Mt. 26:26-39. Text: 26:39.

My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass away from me; nevertheless, not as I will but as thou wilt.

"At certain definite points the will of God is pushing an individual forward so subtly as to give opportunity for the individual initiative requisite for character. When opposition to the will of God gives way, the sense of the presence of God may be very marked. In the new joy of carrying life forward with God, the person realizes that every sense of duty is an opportunity for the enlargement of life."

MEDITATION: Jesus' strength had its rise in his consciousness of the approving love of God, and as he submitted his life completely to the leading of God's spirit he found the rich rewards of the affection of his Father. "Obedience is an organ of spiritual knowledge."

PERSONAL QUESTION: Am I learning to know God through obedience?

PRAYER: Help us, O Lord, to consecrate ourselves to thee afresh. Many our wills be so in accord with thine that we shall be channels of thy grace. Let our daily labor draw us close to thee that we may know thy will and serve thee better, through Christ. Amen.

of improvement as Callison's has in the past few weeks.

During this time Callison's furniture and jewelry store has had a thorough remodeling, making it one of the most beautiful stores in this entire section and at the same time providing a great deal more room for the display of new goods. Tomorrow and the next day the store will have a formal opening for the benefit of its many friends and patrons.

New improvements are always a boon to a town, but when an established business takes on itself to make extensive improvements it means even more. It means that the older concerns of the city are keeping pace with the city's progress. It means that the town is going forward as a unit.

W. J. Callison, head of this concern, is one of the city's oldest residents and he remembers well when Middlesboro's streets were mudholes and so dark as to be unsafe after dusk, when the business houses formed a sparse scattering along Cumberland avenue and the greatest amount of activity was to be found in the city's numerous saloons.

In his residence he has seen wonderful streets and light improvement, has watched Cumberland avenue build up into a solid line of business houses on both sides, has noted almost miraculous change in the moral life of the city.

With all of this improvement, then, is it any more than fitting that he should not only keep pace but should be one of the leaders?

DODGE BROTHERS TYPE-B SEDAN

The Type-B Sedan could well stand as a concrete symbol of everything the name Dodge Brothers itself has come to represent.

It is honestly and wisely built. It stands up under the sternest kind of service. It will serve long beyond the span of life usually allotted to a motor car.

How a Middlesboro Citizen Found Freedom From Kidney Troubles

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—Any curable disease of the kidneys.

Use a tested kidney remedy. Doan's Pills have been tested by thousands.

Middlesboro people testify. Can you ask more convincing proof of merit?

W. R. Oaks, prop. of St. & Worcester Ave., Middlesboro, says: "I had attacks of kidney trouble and my kidneys acted too freely and irregularly. I had a soreness and dull aching across my back and felt tired. Doan's Pills from Lee & Co.'s Drug Store regulated my kidneys and rid me of the backaches. I know they are a fine kidney remedy."

The above statement was given November 3, 1916 and on March 16, 1921, Mr. Oaks added: "I use Doan's Pills every now and then and they are all that is claimed for them. I am glad to recommend them again as I did in 1916." Oaks, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SLEEPLESSNESS

Virginia Lady Says That Many of Her Long-Suffered Ills Have Fled Since She Took Cardui.

Bristol, Va.—"I can sleep good at night now, something I have never done before in my life," says Mrs. Della Hawks of 712 Prospect St., this city, "and it is due to Cardui."

"I was always nervous and tossed when I should have been asleep, but since I took Cardui it has strengthened me, and my general health is so improved that many of the ills from which I have suffered for years have fled."

"I used to go to bed tired and, when I would get up in the morning, I was still tired. Now I feel like doing a day's work in my garden or in the house and I owe all this good health to Cardui for I had suffered for years until I took it."

"I had had female trouble for years and once, for six months, I was flat on my back. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."

"If you are nervous and run down in health, suffering as Mrs. Hawks describes above it is probable that Cardui will greatly help you. Try it."

An L & N Train 530 Miles Long

The distance from Cincinnati to Montgomery is 530 miles. If all the goods shipped by the L & N—(0.00) tons of goods, 880 passenger cars, and 100 freight cars—were loaded together they would fill a train 530 miles long.

It takes 24 hours to travel from Cincinnati to Montgomery. Walking at the rate of 25 miles a day, it would require over 21 days to travel from one end of it to the other.

Think of the money investment in this equipment—over $15,000,000. Imagine the cost of maintaining and operating this system and to keep it in good shape and safe condition—about $2,000,000 a year.

Let this money be used for the fresh money of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. So, by saving the people of 13 states 475,000,000 annually and 52,000 jobs for the industry, the L & N is contributing to the nation's prosperity. Preserve these rights in your memory and you will be able to operate more fully the individual as well as the public interests that come from the undisturbed operation of this great transportation system.
